there are so many memories with aunt pat i think my favortie one is when she was having one of her famous pool party and she was drinking and went inside to go to the bathroom an while she was sitting there she saw her cat crystal walk by an notice that she had a clump of fur on one side an this cat was cover in hair well aunt pat got to cutting and before we knew it the poor cat was bald on one side.that poor cat.she always threw me pool parties every year for my birthday when i was growing up.she always had open arms.so i figure your up there aunt pat drinking a cup of coffee with grandma while uncle bob cooks his very very strange food that always stunk up the house.when Brody gets older i plan on telling him all bout his great aunt and even tho you only saw him once that you loved him so much words couldn't describe it.i love you and we miss you will we never ever forget you aunt pat.-*mwah!

I miss my friend, "mom" very much, every time I come home I look for your car and in the back of mind I think, maybe Pat wants to come for coffee and visit with Scrap.... Pat and Bob took me into their family and treated me like one of their own. Bob wouldnt let Pat put the presents out on Christmas until the "girls" me and Dana were in bed. I have wonderful memories of the Moore family throughout the years.....parties, holidays and birthdays. Over the years she gave me many gifts but the best gift of all was her friendship, laughter and love. I have many pictures of great memories we all have shared with her throughout the years since I met her and I will always cherish her memory...One memory we can all share is that Pat could sell ice to an Eskimo... Every time she wanted a new car she would go in there without a dollar in her pocket and drive out the lot with a car. All we could says only Pat....

A mother like no other. That's how I describe my mother. You were so unique in every way. We shared alot of good memories together and I will always cherish the times we had. It was so sad to see you go on mothers day. I don't always want to always think that this was the day you past and be sad, I wanna be happy knowing that you are my mother and that it's your day to let you know how great of a mom you are. I am so angry that I never got to say goodbye but then I think about it and it's never goodbye it's i'll see you when the man upstairs says it's time. I know you are were you are supposed to be, right beside dad. Yuo guys were meant to be together. I am sorry that you didn't get to spend much time with your grandson, you left us to soon. I guess you had to go tell dad all about him. Whenever he is to ask me about you, I will tell him what a great person you are and that you loved him so much. It hurts so bad to know your not a phone call away anymore, but I know if I need you or dad your in my heart and I can talk to you whenever I need too. I need you to look over my family and I, guide us in the right direction. Be safe on your journey and we will see you again when the time comes. You will be very much missed but never forgotten. I love you mom and i'm glad your with dad now. your son forever James Moore

I have peace in knowing You are safe with Bob, your loved ones, and friends that went to Heaven before you Pat. You meant so much to me and my family for so many years. You were not only a wonderful friend but a sister and part of my family. You always gave unconditional love, support and friendship and were never, ever judgemental, no matter what the situation. You were always there for me and my children. We have shared every emotion a great and true friendship could including not only the good times, smiles, pride, and loads of fun and laughter, but the tears and sorrow that life gave us as well. We survived it all by being there for each other, and I am going to miss you so very much. Your charm and personality opened doors for you and you always found a way to get things done like no one else could ever do. You were an amazing person on this earth and I am certain an even more special angel in Heaven. Rest in Peace, my dear friend. You will be loved and missed and never ever forgotten. I have heard a song several times this week on the radio and can't help but cry every time I hear it: "I Hope You Had The Time Of Your Life" I love you Pat....Lorraine
