Today would have been 18 years of a great life together, I miss you as much today as I did the day you went away. I will always love you and I was blessed that you wanted to share your life with me. I will love you forever and always. Happy anniversary sweetheart.

Debbie, A year has gone by without you, and not one moment in that time was spent without missing you. From your sparkling green eyes, beautiful blond hair, your beautiful smile and your quick wit, your charm, and laughter, your voice saying I Love You, your arms around my neck, I have missed you. I sit here and sometimes I feel as though you are here with me and I hope it is so. You will always live on in my memories sweetheart, I will always love you, Forever and Always. You are in my heart, my mind and my soul. I am blessed knowing that you shared your life with me and I was allowed to share mine with you. I love you and I am in love with you, nothing can ever take that away. Love you forever! Pat

I remember when mom passed away and I started hanging out with the wrong crowd you took me under your wing. We went to the Yum Yum Tree, and you bought me a German Shephard Beanie Baby. To this day I still have it. It is actually in my car on the front drivers side. In a way I feel like you are always looking out for me and protecting me. I love you Aunt Debbie and will always cherish the time that we had together.

Debbie, I only knew you for 3 years but our bond was fast and strong. We had an immediate connection. When I married Keith you took me under your wing not only as a sister-in-law but as a friend. I am grateful to have known you. I feel honored to have been in your life even if it was only for a short time. I will always remember you the way you were on that summer day last year...playing with the dogs, laughing, showing me your plants and sharing stories. You will always be in my heart and mind with fond memories. Love to you, put in a good word for me with the big man.

The lord has taken Deborah Stillion away from us too soon. My mother was a caring person. A person who told u what was on her mind. Most of all, I think my mother proved to all of us over the last 4 months that she was a fighter, strong willed, never ready 2 give up. I will never know why he choose to take her so soon, but heaven can never have to many people with the spirit like my mother. I know she will be watching over all of us, protecting us. I will always have her in my heart. Mom, I love you, I miss you, I will count the days until I see you again. Your Daughter Melissa

My sister was my strength. Although we were not close at times I always knew she was there for me. She never judged or criticized me she just gave me her loving support. My sister was also my friend. I never felt alone because I knew she was always there when I needed her. She protected me and gave me the strength to get through many things. Without her I feel like a piece of me is missing. She will be so dearly missed, but will live on forever in my heart and in my mind. I love you Debbie

For the family, friends and loved ones of Mrs. Stillion,It was so hard to see the pain and anguish of the family, as they stayed at Mrs. Stillion's bedside during her final days....but please know that HER pain and anquish is no longer. She was SUCH a lovely and kind spirited individual and MORE than a pleasure to care for during her many stays with us on 4N. No words can make it easier, but to lift you all up in prayer will always help. As I will. You will all be remembered as such a loving and caring family and may this togetherness continue to help you through your roughest times.I pray that you are comforted with acceptance and understanding. She will be missed so very much.Rebecca F., Overnight CNA
