Uncle Greg, Ken, Veronica, Jen, Chris, and Erica, I'm sorry to be so late in writing to you guys. Thank you for sharing Aunt Evelin with me. There is no one I have ever encountered with such a spirit. (I tried for about ten minutes to find an appropriate adjective to insert before spirit, but truly there is no one word that can do her justice). Aunt Evelin not only compelled me to change my life, she also help save it. No church service I have been to holds a candle to the sacred few hours I was privileged to spend with her a few weeks ago. Yesterday, as I sat in the sun for the first time this Spring, my friend said, "why do you smile so much today?" My answer was just to keep smiling. I told Erica Aunt Evelin was like the first day of Spring, and I felt that yesterday. I'm grateful we all had the opportunity to love and be loved by Aunt Evelin. Again, thank you guys for sharing her. Each one of you carry a unique trait from her. (I'm writing those letters). My thoughts are with you all. Love you! Jane

I think my birth just made her realize her calling in life. She enjoyed being a mom more than any other thing in her life, and it always showed. She loved us so completely and unconditionally. I sure do miss her.

And it is a ripple effect. Let's pass it on.

Erica Hodge March 17 at 9:43 PM

Her eyes don't have to be looking at the camera to see her expression. She always told me that your birth brought purpose to her life. That's clear in seeing the way that she looks at you. Beauty and Grace; God is the source but you were the beginning of her realization!

Wow. Look at how beautiful Mom is.

I don't deal well with these kind of things....I hate losing someone that has been a part of my life for over 40years. Evelin. you are one of the sweetest and loving people that I ever knew. I will forever remeber the way you went out of your way on my 16th Birthday to make sure I had a cake and small party while my parents were away. Every time I saw you you lways had a smile on your face and a loving Hug to welcome me into whatever family event we were at. I will miss you more than you will ever know. I love you Aunt Evelin.

My mother was the warmest, most wecoming person. She embodied grace, humility, and compassion. One of the greatest things she encouraged her children to do was to find and be yourself. She loved us all for who we are and accepted us for what we aren't. She not only made her children feel this way but all of our friends as well. They all knew they were welcome in the Reynolds household. My Dad and Mom recently celebrated 42 years of marriage and lifetime of unconditional love together. Her life and all those she touched is her legacy. The best way to honor her is to share these lessons with a warm smile and encouraging tone just as she did. I love and miss you tremendously Mom.

Your Mom was so gracious and lovely. I met Evelin at Living Word Fellowship about thirty years ago and went to many of her home bible studies. The last time I spoke to her, we caught up with all the news about our grown children and young grandchildren. I want you to know that she loved each one of you so very much and was just bursting with joy concerning her grandchildren. One last thing that comes to mind is she was so happy that Greg still called her beautiful. She truly was a beautiful person with such a kind and gracious spirit who loved the Lord with all her heart. This scripture, 1 Cor. 2:9, comes to mind - "But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered in to the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for those that love him." Evelin will be waiting with a smile on her face for us when we see her again! Much love Gail Stevens

Evelin Reynolds was one of the best. Working with Evelin at the Agency on Aging was such a wonderful experience. I learned from her compassion and faith at every opportunity. She gave of herself so freely to the people she helped, never a question as to why. Her love of her family was incredible, oh how she loved each and every one of you. May you all find peace in Evelin's fantastic giving spirit. I will always hold Evelin close to me and try to be the person she was.

She was the most selfless person I've ever known. Besides sacrificing everything for her children, she even chose to work in a job helping the elderly until she became too sick to do it. Always so strong in her faith, she knew she was going to a better place. Although she would have chosen to spend more time with her family here on earth, she always put her destiny in God's hands. God has a wonderful angel now.

I love my mom with every inkling of what I am. My biggest regret is the fear that I held the last couple of months. This pic was taken about 5 weeks before her passing and I was doing my best to smile while my heart was being being ripped out of my chest.
