Today I learned my childhood friend who I loved and who I attended grade school and high school with had passed. I am saddened that I didn't know she was near that time so I could have seen her face one more time. It was only a few weeks ago that I sent an email with a greeting- of course, there was no answer. I still dream about the house on Carlisle Drive and her 2 brothers, David and Billy, our walks around the Masonic Temple with our doll carriages, and her mother, Hazels, great meals. I will miss our phone conversations most- God Bless You, Rosie
