I have struggled to find the right words to express on here. I truly miss you and the memories of my little buddy from so many years ago. I have cherished our talks more recently and hold on the the sound of the the last time you said to me "I love you too, Stacey!" I came across a quote that I thought you would appreciate since you were such a lover of words and literature. This was just so beautiful and I knew it was the right thing to share. " When he shall die, Take him and cut him out in little stars, And he will make the face of Heav'n so fine that all the world will be in love with night and pay no worship to the garnish sun. " - William Shakespeare You truly have made heaven so much greater and every time I see the stars I can't help but think that they shine brighter now. I look forward to the day we meet again; til then, I feel comfort in knowing that I have you with me always; that you experience nothing but love, joy and peace in your place in heaven.~Love for always, Stacey

I will always remember Timmy's smiling face - he was such a happy child. I have never seen anyone deal with cancer with the courage Tim had, I believe he stayed strong for all of us, what brave young man he was. Until we meet again Tim - Rest In Peace - we will always love you. Your Aunt Sherry

Timmy was a child filled with love and appreciation for the daily gift of life. He was keenly aware of every activity around him, quietly recording all in memory for future benefit. Throughout his childhood he knew death lurked in the shadows, but raced ahead in daring admonishment with achievements well ahead of his years. As a teenager Timothy did not lack self-esteem as a result of his limited vision. His strength was living each day to the fullest. During his high school years Timothy always accepted every experience and challenge as an opportunity to grow. Tim grew into a young man possessing enviable courage never accepting failure as an option. He possessed strong moral fiber and integrity. His judgment and analysis of people and events was almost always on the mark. I'll always be very appreciative that the Almighty one blessed me with the opportunity to travel with Tim through the dark valleys' and shining mountain tops. As I finish my journey through life, it's comforting to know that Tim will be with the angels holding a guiding light. Love always Dad

To my beloved son- I will miss you deeply.There is no greater hurt then the loss of a child.You are the most courageous person that I know.Words cannot express the joy that you gave to us in the 26 years that we were privileged to know and love you.You taught us the meaning of the word strength in the life that you lead while fighting cancer. Not once but twice.I will miss our lunches after class and the trips to the mall and matinee movies. But most of all I will miss your company, your smiles your laughter. I thank God for everyday Hehas allowed you to be here with us. Even though the pain is deep ,I know he has called you home to be with Him. God Bless you son on your journey

When my sister first met Timothy, I was terrified that she was picking a guy up at the air port she had met online. When they made it back to our hometown so he could meet the family, I was pleasantly surprised he wasn't a serial killer. In fact, he was an amazing individual. He was quirky, polite, funny, geeky, and genuinely happy. Him and my fiance` became friends almost instantaneously. They had so much in common. Even when Tim came back for Christmas that year, he was such a joy to have around. Timothy was such a unique person, one that you really had to get to know. I am so blessed to be able to say that Timothy was a friend, my future brother-in-law. He has left a profound effect on everyone he met. His amazing strength and courage will never be forgotten and will inspire people forever. May the blessing of light be on you forever Timothy. You will be deeply missed by many.

I remember him as a toddler and having the pleasure to babysit one evening for the family....he was a beautiful little boy.....looks as though the Lord has taken good care of him, giving him time to share these precious few years with his family and friends. The Lord now has another perfect angel in heaven who will watch over his love ones and endure a beautiful, painless, healthy being forever and ever. God is good and will comfort all of those left behind until they meet with Tim again....love to all of his family and I share the sorrow.....Nancy Buckner & family

Very sorry to read of the passing of your dear loved one Timothy. He was so young with so much more to give and get in life. Life is such a precious gift and yet so short-lived for the time we exist. I am writing to share a few words of comfort and encouragement from the source of truth the bible. God holds out a wonderful hope for all those in the grave. At John 11:25 Jesus said "I AM THE RESURRECTION AND THE LIFE. HE THAT EXERCISES FAITH IN ME, EVEN THOUGH HE DIES, WILL COME TO LIFE." The nine accounts of ones in the bible who were resurrected are a guarantee that the resurrection of others is possible. (Mark 5-38-43) What a blessed reason to hope in God! (John 5-28,29) With the gift of your memories of Timothy they will bring you great joy. When a loved one becomes a memory that memory turns into a treasure.. Talking, writing, and reading the information in the bible about the resurrection will help with the grieving process. May you and yours lean on God for the strength you need at this sad time.
