Ill never forget everytime we would go see granny we would stop at Mcdonalds and buy her a big mac and milkshake because she always said that was favorite. Or going to visit granny at her house and wondering what kind of candy she was going to have in her candy dish on the coffee table. But of all the wonderful memories of Granny i will never forget how she loved her garden. I would get a kick out of her going out to her garden in her old white shoes just so she could send us home with a bag full of cucumbers and maters as she would call them. Some of my favorite times with Granny were just sitting on the front porch swing listening to her hum Amazing Grace. Granny your flying with the angels now but i can still hear you singing. Love you and im going to miss you Granny.

I loved the family get togethers at Christmas time, always seeing family that you wouldn't see otherwise. Hearing stories and sharing stories, seeing how everyones families had grown, and seeing all the "true" love the family shared with and has for one another. And all the memories Eddie has shared with me over the years. All the weekends hespent with Granny and Granddaddy, all the Sunday family gatherings, they were all so special to him. Eddies special memories have also become mine..Love you Granny.julie
