David Charles Richard Lamond

APR 25, 1944 - FEB 18, 2020

David C. Lamond, an honored sensei who established Quantico Dojo, died suddenly at age 75, on February 18th at his home in Fredericksburg, Virginia.

David is survived by his three children, his son Brian Lamond, wife Dawn, his daughter Heather Withall, husband Scott, and his son Scott Lamond, wife Justyne. He is also survived by four grandchildren, Brian's son Brayden, aged 10, and Heather's children Madelynn, aged 10, Casey, aged 6, and Chase, aged 3.

David was born on April 25th, 1944 in The Bronx, New York. He graduated from Clarkstown Senior High school in New City, New York. He went on to obtain an Associate in Arts from Rockland Community College and a Bachelor of Arts from Dominican College of Blauvelt, New York. He was a veteran of the Vietnam War while serving in the United States Army, and retired from the Ramapo Police Department in New York. David was most remembered by his students and fellow instructors where he spent 45 years training others. Although he was not known as a fisherman, he was definitely an angler. David was an avid horseman and spent time in the Mounted Police. He was a beloved grandfather who was often found storytelling with his grandchildren gathered close.

A Celebration of Life will be held from 6:00 - 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, February 25, 2020 at Found and Sons Funeral Chapel on Courthouse Road in Fredericksburg, Virginia.

Lamond Sensei was one of the most influential teachers, mentors, and friends in my life. I had the distinct honor of knowing him from 2011-2020 and the esteemed honor of being his 40th and final black belt. The reach of his lessons touched literally hundreds of thousands of lives through his teaching to hundreds of civilians, thousands of police, and by extension his influence on the US Marine Martial Arts program and the hundreds of thousands to whom it has been taught. Dave has cultivated two families and I am proud to be a part of his dojo family. There are many people alive today because of Lamond Sensei.
