Nancy Schoenberg posted:

My sister, MaryAnn, loved the simple things in life. She could look at a field of wildflowers and think it was a beautiful garden. While growing up, being the youngest in the family, I looked up to her. She had 4 little girls who she dressed up like little dolls. She was so proud of them. Her life was not easy, she worked nights and took care of the girls during the day. At the same time she completed her nursing degree. It was a huge accomplishment, going to school, being a stay at home Mother during the day and working all night. Still she found the time to bake and decorate the birthday cakes for each one in the family, and to be a brownie leader. Mary Ann was full of love and had a deep devotion to our Blessed Mother. Mary Ann, may our Lady enfold you with her love as you are now in heaven with her Son, Jesus, and all the saints. Sent with our love, Nancy & Tom
