I am still shocked that you are not here. I can't believe this is real. When things are quiet I think about you. You are my little brother and I miss you so much. There is just no way to express the grief I feel that you are not here. I am taking it day by day. But I am going to try to spread the memories of you every chance I get. I will always love you. Take care of Mom and Dad. I know you are with Grandma smiling.....
