I remember when Chris was a little boy he was so cute, and how Tommy and Lisa would bring him over to moms house you both spent a lot of time with him. My prayers are with your family and Chris's family.

Sweetie I will miss you so much I feel so empty I remember the day you were born, you were such a blessing and you were such a happy baby and child, all you had to do was say to Lisa and Tom that you didn't want to go to daycare and they would skip school and keep you with them. You are loved so much. Mom

Chris, I was 15 when we met. I started dating your sister and you were part of the package. We took you everywhere with us and I even changed your diapers. I guess you prepared me fir when we started having kids. You and your brother Jimmy, were my first "little brothers" , I only had sisters. I watched you grow into a man and become a father yourself. You suffered from some strong demons and you struggled through life. I always loved you and helped whenever I could. You left us too soon, but you are finally at true peace and the demons are gone now. I know you are in a much better place with our Lord by your side welcoming you into his Kingdom. I will see you again when it's my time and look forward to seeing you hapoy and healthy again. I love you and will miss you until then. Love Ya Buddy

I still remember the days as a kid, sitting on the floor playing Nintendo and Sega in basement. I still remember the day when we collapsed the pool by making whirlpools and thought FaFa was going to kill all of us. Then as a young adult we worked together and would good around while on shift. Lol. That night of the company Christmas party and my mom sat us down and talked to us like little children about staying out of trouble be we left. I remember that we sat there making fun of everyone and then sneaking a pitcher of beer out to finish in the parking lot because the party was over. Then we cruised around enjoyed each other's company before heading home. That was one of the last times we hung out before I left for the Army. We didn't keep in touch to often but when we did it was like we never lost touch. Life definitely had its trials for you but you never gave up. I wish that we kept in touch more and we could hang out one more time. I love you and will miss you everyday Uncle Chris!!

Baby Brother. I was only 14 when you were born and I was so excited! I took care of you as if you were my own child. You were my shadow always wanting to go everywhere I went. You were always found all cuddled up and sleeping in my bed.

When I turned 15 and met the love of my life which would eventually be your brother in law, Tom, we took you on our date nights! I never minded or complained because you truly were my light. I treasured the relationship that we had together. As you became an adult Life's Trials and Tribulations would put you on a different direction sometimes and although I did not agree it never changed the Love I had for you. My best memories is those moments we shared when you were so little and innocent and the only worry you had was to be held within my arms where you would get all my hugs and kisses. My heart is shattered for our parents, your children and for all who will feel the pain of losing you. I pray that in time we can all find peace and comfort knowing that you are no longer struggling with your health and life's struggles but are now rejoicing amongst GOD and his angels. I pray that when you look down on all of us that you know just how much we Love and will miss you. Until we are together again Baby Brother. I love you. Your big Sis, Lisa

Chrisl have known you since middle school. I was in hair school an you use to let me cut ur hair for practice boy those were some hair cuts lol!! I stood in your wedding witness three of children be born. You were a big Yankees fan (boo) loved soccer Mountain Dew playing play station an you loved coffee just as much as me. You loved your children an family. When you moved to North Carolina I would try my best to come an visit as well as you all did. I tried to help anyway I could when times got rough. I have been there for a lot of good times an bad times. You have battled a lot of demons through your life all we wanted was for you to get better I know you tried to many times. Even tho we have not talked in a couple of years I will always cherish an hold onto all the memories we had together. Even the one when u scared the crap out of me around Halloween an I smacked the crap out of you. Lol . No more demons to bother you now may you Rest In Peace an when the time comes for me I will see you again !!! Kisses to the sky my friend thanks for all good times an laughter all these years. Love always jennifer 💜
