Seeing one without the other can never be the same. You and Jen were two peas in a pod, wrapped up in the vessel of love that has carried the both of you from children to maturity. Jennifer may you be able to rest easier now that your body is free from the struggle that took you away at such a young age, and keep your eyes closed knowing that Rusty was, is and will forever be the love your life and his was meant to always have. I miss you two, and regret not seeing you together when you were down in Florida a few years back. You are good folk. Stay well Rusty, love ya Brother, DJ
