Roger was most definitely a good friend. He was always there when I needed something I couldn't do myself. He helped me move. My own father never even helped me move once in my life. But Roger did. Because that's how Roger Hitt was. A good, gentle, kind-hearted man who would've given the shirt off his back to anyone, I believe. I was so shocked to hear of his passing after the service. I wish I could have been there. I know he's looking down on us all pulling strings for us when he can. I especially remember how much he loved my dog Fin. He always bought him his favorite treat » 7-11 peanut butter cookies. And always gave him both. Love you Rog. Rest well my dear friend.

I was especially fond of Roger calling out "Hiiii Deb!" in the way only Roger could do. He reminded me of my older brother Roger Lee; they both shared the same teenage years doing the hardwork of gettin' up hay in the hot Rappahannock summers. Since I lost my brother prematurely in 2015, Roger was my constant reminder of my own brother. Fittingly the last thing we did on a hot day at the end of July was to go together to have ice cream on the porch in the heart of Amissville. He had strawberry.I will miss him.My deepest condolences to all who loved Roger. May we all find comfort in our memories of time well spent.Rest in peace dear friend. We'll meet again.
