My sweet Uncle Jr, you were a true legend. The one who was always smiling, telling jokes and talking about the old times. I have so many memories of you but one that sticks out to me is when we were little we came home one night to our trailer being tore up from the floor up, you done had a good ole time cooking and I don't know rearranging maybe haha. My mom and dad just shook it off like just another Jr shenanigan lol. You was wild one back in the day. I remember you talking like Donald Duck, all the kids loved it. You was one of the hardest workers I knew. You never met a stranger and had friends everywhere. You were the best Uncle and will be missed. Watch over us from up there and keep the others straight. I'll miss you but now you're pain free and making a place for us all and reunited with Jenny & all your loved ones!

A very sweet, handsome, fun-loving man gone way to soon. A favorite memory of mine that I have of you is when years ago I think you had a little too much to drink and was at my mom's house and started eating the flowers my mom's boyfriend had given her. Lol. You was so funny. And it just happens they were roses!!! We nicknamed you "flowers" that night and got a chuckle Everytime we talked about it. So I will light a "rose" candle in your memory and our memory of that night. Sending prayers to your family and friends. RIP Jr, you was very much loved here on earth.
