My mamma Yowell. It was 50 years ago when I met mamma Yowell. Darlene and I became best friends and mamma Yowell treated me like a daughter. Probably the sweetest lady you could ever meet. She always had a smile and her coffee cup. When she could no longer carry her coffee cup, she had coffee candy. I would have loved to see her get really mad just one time but it just wasn't in her nature. She was simply "A Great Lady". Rest well mamma Yowell, Gloria

To Candy, Darlene, and to all the rest of mama Yowell's family, my family, and I said our deepest condolences for the passing of your dear sweet mother. I've known since I was 16 years old and she was absolutely one of the sweetest, joyous ladies I've ever met in my life. I used to see Mr. Yowell holding Mrs. Yowell's hand as they stroll together through the neighborhood where we lived actually growing up with a little black dog being tiny. They never pass my house without stopping and saying hi and talking to my little baby on the blanket. Her name was Tara and this was in 1973. I'll never forget how pleasant these 2 sweet human beings were. I miss them before I met Candy and Darlene and Candy and I became best friends the day we met.. Mr. and Mrs. Yowell were very special people in my life when I was a young, teenage mother and wife. Everyone who knew Mr. and Mrs. YOWELL always called mom and dad and they always got hugs. We all did. MRS. YOWELL was one loving lady. She will always be loved and missed by me.. I will never forget you, Genevieve, and there will always be a special place in my heart where you will be. Well, now to strolling through the neighborhood, you and Mr. YOWELL will be strolling across heaven to the beautiful songs of the angels arm and arm and cheek to cheek. What a reunion that surely must have been just a few days ago. We can only imagine. Love you Mrs. YOWELL forever and always. Love, Patti, Tara, and Cathy. Rest in the arms of heaven, in the arms of God, our Lord and Savior forever and ever amen
