The Marines at School of Infantry West, Detachment Hawaii send their sympathies to the family and friends of LCpl Marc L. Plotts. Know that here we are celebrating his life rather than mourning his death. Marc was an outstanding Marine - a title that no one will ever take from him - not even now. He was a good man and will be missed. Semper Fidelis - Always Faithful..... Our fondest regards - Major John Allsup and the Marines of SOI-W, Detachment Hawaii.

Vicki and I will miss Marc. It was great to have Marc in our group during high school. He is a great and fun guy to have around. I remember when Marc prayed to accept God's forgiveness for his sins. I am sure, because of that faith, Marc is now in heaven. We were proud of him, as I am sure you were also.

We were never fortunate to know Marc as an adult, only as a "kid" or young teen. He was always very polite and respectful to us. Always got a chuckle watching him walk around the neighborhood with his guitar strapped to his back, or sitting back on a street corner strumming away. His smile was contagious. After reading everything that his family & friends have written about him on FB makes us wish we had the opportunity to know him as an adult. We are forever proud of him for serving our country and especially proud for the man he had become. Thoughts and prayers are with you Lee-Ann, Buzz & family, through this most difficult time.
