“ It was a pleasure to have Margaret as a friend and neighbor. She enjoyed walking and talking and admiring flowers and other things that were growing in our yards. She loved reading, and it was fun to share books with her. Since both she and I had a connection to North Carolina, I enjoyed passing on my copy of the magazine, "Our State," to her every month.

Margaret put up a good fight in her battle with cancer, and I was always uplifted by her attitude and amazed at the stamina that she sometimes had even when she was going through treatments. I will miss her, and I send my sincere sympathy to Linda and to Pat and pray God's blessings on the entire family as they learn to live without Margaret. May she rest in peace.
